Tokyo and Osaka are the best markets for seaweeds, of which the Japanese consume large quantities.
It is said that some of the richest mines in the world depend entirely upon water transported in tank cars.
Washington left an estate valued at $800,000, which is supposed to be larger than that left by any other president of the United States.
In Salsburg the temperature rises to 150 degrees in the daytime and sinks below the freezing point at night. There is no such variation in the great American desert.
President Roosevelt has given to the United States two dozen white swans, smaller animals.
The United States is now the leading producer of quicksilver in the world and Spain has been compelled to this second place. The entire product of this country comes from Texas and California.
In many parts of the Australian continent beef farming has become a profitable and popular occupation. There are at present over 250,000 head of cattle, producing from 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 pounds annually.
The white flag which was hoisted on the Russian destroyer Bloriot when Admiral Roppe's fleet surrounded it, the Japanese has been sent to Tokyo. It was a tablecloth in the wardrobe the size being about 9 by 5 feet.
The war of the Dutch against the Achinese has been going on for more than a century, and though the once powerful kingdom of Adin is now confined to the northwest corner of Sumatra, the natives are still unsubdued.
The Austrian government pays from $230 up to $250 for every shark killed in the vicinity of its territory, the greater range in rewards offered being due to the wide differences in species and size among these destructive fishes.
The largest drug store in the world is at Moscow. It was established 208 years ago and has at present over 700 employees. It makes up over half a million prescriptions a year. Russians send their orders to it even when traveling abroad.
Experiments on government railroads of the United States show that when speed is increased to 500 degrees there is a saving of 16 per cent in the quantity of steam used and a saving of 12 per cent in fuel as compared with engines using ordinary or saturated steam.
During a trephining operation on a New York girl recently a portion of her brain became mutilated, and almost two ounces of it had to be removed. Nevertheless she has just been discharged from the hospital and is said to have full possession of every mental faculty.
A workman engaged in digging a ditch at Manchester, Vt., hung his vest on a fence post while at work. When he went to look for it he found that a big Jersey cow was just swallowing the vest. The workman, however, was not so much concerned as the cow, and he went along to his work.
A prisoner who was arrested at Wolfboro, N. H., was allowed to go on his own recognizance for a peculiar reason. Justice was out of town, and the prisoner was to be arraigned a trial justice heard the case and decided that as he had been ordered before a court which could not be found after reasonable search the defendant was entitled to his liberty.
Portland, England, has passed an ordinance for the suppression of cock crowing. The chicken fanciers say it cannot be suppressed, but the London News says that a partial remedy consists in placing the perch where the cock roosts so high that when he stands up to crow he knocks his head against the roof and desists. A swinging board hung over his head answers the same purpose, it says.

WOMAN AND FASHION
Pretty Draped Waist.
A very smart afternoon waist is shown here, evolved in ivory white silk tissue, with daisy collar, cuffs and chemise of embroidered muslin adorned with small dots of green velvet. A deep crushed grille of chiffon velvet gives a smart touch as well as the small bows fastened to the front with tiny gold buckles. The model is one of the smartest of the season.

SMART SILK WAIST.
which may be made dressy or not, according to the material used in its construction. The chemise may be made removable as well as the cuffs, and a good way to fasten them is by snap fasteners, which will allow them to be removed and put in with less trouble and time than by the usual method of buttoning. The sleeve is a very fetching one, being shirred in deep tucks over the elbow to fit the arm snugly and forming a moderate puff at the top. The front of the waist is shirred along the underarm seam and on the front edges, but with only so much fullness as to become any wearer. A yelling French cashmere, chiffon taffeta or mousseline would be suitable as material.

Stylish Skirts.
Skirts are to continue very wide at the bottom and to be fitted with clinging close-fitting around the hips, all authorities are agreed, but one cannot tell just what is to be the fate of the skirt and other skirts plaited into the waistband. Assuredly they are neither so new nor so smart as the gored and circular skirt, fitting smoothly over the hips with little if any plaiting or shirring, but attaining wide, rippling fullness at the bottom.

Lace Boleros.
Little boleros of heavy-lace or embroidery are details of certain chic empire models, and on the more expensive new models the same handsome trimming is repeated in a deep border around the bottom of the coat, though the cloth coat is more often left plain or simply finished with braid or stitching.

For Fall and Winter.
Nothing makes handsomer suits than broadcloth, and nothing is so fashionable, although chevrons are exceedingly attractive this season and are shown in great numbers. Velvet is well liked, and there are a great many novelties, among which plaid must always be noted. In the illustration is shown a model which is exceedingly chic and smart and which is made of broadcloth in one of the new checked reds, with collar and cuffs of velvet finished with a tiny edge of cream.

Now the Kansas has appropriated money to make the old Santa Fe trail, an enterprising citizen of New Mexico suggests that a hotel be built at Las Vegas to be called the Santa Fe Trail hotel. He would portray on the walls of the big dining room the scenes of the trail. In other rooms would be hung paintings of old time stage-coaches, cavalry squads, buffaloes, Indians and scouts, the sleeping rooms to be named after the states in the Union.

Thomas Hendricks was valedictorian of his class at the Washington High school in 1903. Now he's private secretary to the general manager of the Canton-Hankow railroad. He went out to the Philippines as a government stenographer, passed into the employ of a Manila law firm and then got his present job in Canton. He signs checks and issues passes, and the Chinese say he is a "man of honor." And Thomas is barely twenty-one.

Several notable members of the British bar have been giving advice to young lawyers. Sir John Bingham says, "Work hard, have noble ambitions, be kind, have confidence in yourself, get married." Sir Edward Clark said much the same thing, but Justice Maule declared that there were only three things essential—"the first is high animal spirits, the second is high animal spirits, and the third is high animal spirits." If in addition the young man will take the trouble to learn a little law, I do not think it will impede his progress in the profession.

A HEROIC BATTLE.
The Enemy Was the Sea, and the Colored Troops Won.
No engagement of the civil war was more heroic and more heroic and more heroic than that fought by the Fifty-ninth United States colored troops after hostilities were over. The Magazine of American History contains an account of the battle in which the black soldiers bore themselves bravely. The steamer Merrimac, loaded with cotton, left New Orleans for New York carrying, besides her regular passengers, thirty officers and 900 colored men.
For several days all went well. Then the vessel sprung a leak, fires were damped and the alarm spread. It was found that the iron supply pipe through which the water for the condenser was taken from the sea was broken, and the place of leakage could not be reached. The passengers were panic-stricken. One small, fat German went about wringing his hands and crying:
"Ach, we are at the bottom! Only hope lay in keeping afloat until a vessel could be sighted. The colored troops were pressed into service and proted themselves the heroes of the occasion. A line of men was established from the hold to the deck, and buckets were passed as rapidly as hands could move. On deck another line stepped back and forth with wet trained military tread. The work was slow but most exhausting. The men at the bottom could not hold their position more than three minutes at a time. They were blinded and half-strangled by the swashing sea water and bruised by the lumps of coal which dashed about.
But no one faltered, and high above the noise rose the clear, sweet voices of the workers, now singing an army song, now a cheery negro melody. The music brought new hope to the hearts of the passengers. Hour after hour the men worked and sang, and the sea did not gain on them.
Two days passed, and the drinking water gave out. Then they could no longer sing, and their parched throats were eased only by a scanty supply of oranges and lemons, but still they worked. On the third day the lights of a steamer were seen only half a mile away. Rockets were sent up, and with great difficulty, on account of her wet ammunition, a gun was fired. To the dismay of all, the steamer passed on. Quickly the soldiers formed a line once more, and the wearisome labor began again.
After sixty-five hours of bucket passing a steamer was sighted which responded to the call for help, and the waterlogged Merrimac was towed into harbor.
The men who had sung so cheerily in the midst of hard labor and in the face of death were thoroughly exhausted, but they had not lost their light-hearted gaiety.

CHOICE MISCELLANY
Richest Railroad in World.
As incredulous as it may sound to many that Douglas has the richest railroad in the world, it is nevertheless a fact. This railroad track and bed are only about one-half mile long, but their value is doubtless correctly estimated at $3,000,000. Alongside of the sampling works of the Copper Queen smelter is the road, which comes out of an excavated hollow somewhat to the east of the smelter on a road of some of the richest copper in the world and also thousands of tons of concentrates from other mines and mills. The railroad brings the surplus ore reserve from the Copper Queen smelter, to be drawn upon in case of accident at the Bisbee mines or on the railroad. The depth of the bed averages about fifteen feet, and it is thirty feet wide, and all is ore oxides, sulphides, manganese, malachite, etc., and concentrates that are worth $50 per ton—Arizona Republic.

Carlyle's Bad Shilling.
A farmer in Manitoba wears on his watch chain a blackened metal disk, which has attached to it the following history: Some thirty years ago he was a bookkeeper in a railway station in Dumfriesshire. One day Thomas Carlyle, whom he knew by sight, took a ticket for a short run by rail and laid down a shilling. The clerk, eager to secure a souvenir of his famous countryman, put the coin aside and from his own pocket made up the deficiency. He left the railway service and for a long time was out of a situation. Unfortunately, although sorry against the grain, he was impelled to part with his last—the treasured Carlyle-shilling. But it would not stand the ringing test. Then the fact was made evident to the ex-employee that somebody had palmed on the Sage of Chelsea a spurious shilling! Thus the lack of value on the relic's part enabled him to stick to it. Relatives sent him to Manitoba, where he prospered, and the fraudulent Carlyle shilling has long been his most treasured possession.—London Daily News.

A Subway Mystery.
A somewhat rare case of abduction on the top of the rail has appeared in the New York city subway. This is in the form of transverse depressions, an inch or more in breadth and an inch or more in depth, and in some cases more or less frequently over several neighboring rails. Nor can they be ascribed solely to curves or to the effect of powder brakes or to acceleration, while a considerable mystery lies in the comparative immunity of the subway, where the conditions appear more unfavorable and essentially different only in the manner of applying power. It is significant that these depressions are found occasionally on girder rails carrying electric street cars, so that in all probability their cause must be sought in some unrecognized peculiarity of electric traction.—Railway Age.

What One Day's Hunting Brought to a Breed of Pied Wagtails.
A close student of bird life writes: "Observation of several species of insectivorous birds has shown that the parent birds will, when their family is growing up, make between them in the neighborhood of 500 visits to the nest in the course of a day, carrying on each occasion a whole heap load of gnats or spiders or larvae. For the birds which feed on gnats or other small life generally take to their young not single insects, but a whole collection at a time. On one occasion I spent an hour in taking the record of a pied wagtail which had its brood of newly fledged young ones in an old disused punt that had settled down at its moorings into the mud at the side of the pond. During the hour the male bird alone was looking after the family, the female amused herself by running about on the bank catching insects. On her own consumption and varying the occupation with long spells of attention to her toilet. The male bird, on the other hand, never rested for one minute from his work of bread-winning. As his hunting ground was the open surface of the pond, about which he flitted, he was never out of my sight.
"In the course of the hour he made twenty-eight trips, the shortest absence from the young lasting one and a half minutes and the longest nearly six minutes. On no occasion did he remain at the punt for more than fifteen seconds or just long enough to turn over the food collected on the last trip to the younger youngsters and be off again. Myriads of gnats were dancing above the water, and at each dip the bird struck at one, but one could not see whether he always caught his quarry or not. As far as it was possible to guess, he was successful in about half the attempts. On his shortest absence he made over forty shots, and from that the number ran up to considerably over 200.
"Supposing that he missed his aim half the time or afterward dropped or swallowed the insects, so that half of them were wasted and failed to reach the family at home, there must have been from 1,000 to 2,000 gnats brought back to the punt in the course of that one hour. Later in the day both parent birds were hawking simultaneously, each returning methodically to the young every two or three minutes. What the gross consumption of insects was in the course of the day it is impossible to guess, but it can hardly have been less than 10,000 or 15,000 and was probably twice as many."

Hard to Please.
Nobody outside the journalistic profession has any idea how difficult it is for an editor to please some of his patrons. For instance, referring to the matter of his toilet, a paper announced, "Mr. Maguire will wash himself before he assumes the office of town clerk." This made Maguire furious, and he demanded a retraction, which appeared thus: "Mr. Maguire requests us to deny that he will wash himself before he assumes the office of town clerk." Oddly enough, this only enraged Maguire the more.—San Francisco News-Letter.

He Set the Pace.
"You seem bound and determined to live right up to my salary."
"I'm merely trying to live up to the diamond and things you gave me when we were engaged, dear."—Houston Post.

His Happiness.
He— "I shall be just miserable when I have to go away and leave you."
"Oh, Jack, if I were sure of that I'd feel so happy!"—Life.

Power of Radium.
In an address before the British Scientific association Professor Darwin said radium was a substance which was perhaps millions of times more powerful than dynamite. Thus it was estimated that an ounce of radium would contain enough power to raise 10,000 tons a mile above the earth's surface. Another way of stating the same estimate was that the energy needed to tow a ship of 12,000 tons a distance of 6,000 sea miles at fifteen knots was contained in twenty-two ounces of radium. Now, we know that the entire world's radio active materials, and it was safe to assume that it forms in some degree a sample of the materials of the solar system; hence it was almost certain that the sun is radio active also.

Docking Horses.
President Roosevelt has rendered a good service in taking a pronounced stand against docking horses. In Washington the custom is labored, and there the horse is quite exempt from such barbarity. It is a cockney idea copied from the aristocratic snobs of England. It not only deprives the horse of the use of his natural grace, but of his weapon of defense against the flies and other insects, which are left free to torture him.
In Kentucky, to the credit of her people be it said, outside of a limited set, the practice has no favor, and at the agricultural fairs, where the highest grades of horses of all kinds are shown, such mutilation is rarely seen.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

People glorify all sorts of bravery except the bravery they might show on behalf of their nearest neighbors.—George Elliot.

Thus the lack of value on the relic's part enabled him to stick to it. Relatives sent him to Manitoba, where he prospered, and the fraudulent Carlyle shilling has long been his most treasured possession.—London Daily News.

A Subway Mystery.
A somewhat rare case of abduction on the top of the rail has appeared in the New York city subway. This is in the form of transverse depressions, an inch or more in breadth and an inch or more in depth, and in some cases more or less frequently over several neighboring rails. Nor can they be ascribed solely to curves or to the effect of powder brakes or to acceleration, while a considerable mystery lies in the comparative immunity of the subway, where the conditions appear more unfavorable and essentially different only in the manner of applying power. It is significant that these depressions are found occasionally on girder rails carrying electric street cars, so that in all probability their cause must be sought in some unrecognized peculiarity of electric traction.—Railway Age.

What One Day's Hunting Brought to a Breed of Pied Wagtails.
A close student of bird life writes: "Observation of several species of insectivorous birds has shown that the parent birds will, when their family is growing up, make between them in the neighborhood of 500 visits to the nest in the course of a day, carrying on each occasion a whole heap load of gnats or spiders or larvae. For the birds which feed on gnats or other small life generally take to their young not single insects, but a whole collection at a time. On one occasion I spent an hour in taking the record of a pied wagtail which had its brood of newly fledged young ones in an old disused punt that had settled down at its moorings into the mud at the side of the pond. During the hour the male bird alone was looking after the family, the female amused herself by running about on the bank catching insects. On her own consumption and varying the occupation with long spells of attention to her toilet. The male bird, on the other hand, never rested for one minute from his work of bread-winning. As his hunting ground was the open surface of the pond, about which he flitted, he was never out of my sight.
"In the course of the hour he made twenty-eight trips, the shortest absence from the young lasting one and a half minutes and the longest nearly six minutes. On no occasion did he remain at the punt for more than fifteen seconds or just long enough to turn over the food collected on the last trip to the younger youngsters and be off again. Myriads of gnats were dancing above the water, and at each dip the bird struck at one, but one could not see whether he always caught his quarry or not. As far as it was possible to guess, he was successful in about half the attempts. On his shortest absence he made over forty shots, and from that the number ran up to considerably over 200.
"Supposing that he missed his aim half the time or afterward dropped or swallowed the insects, so that half of them were wasted and failed to reach the family at home, there must have been from 1,000 to 2,000 gnats brought back to the punt in the course of that one hour. Later in the day both parent birds were hawking simultaneously, each returning methodically to the young every two or three minutes. What the gross consumption of insects was in the course of the day it is impossible to guess, but it can hardly have been less than 10,000 or 15,000 and was probably twice as many."

Hard to Please.
Nobody outside the journalistic profession has any idea how difficult it is for an editor to please some of his patrons. For instance, referring to the matter of his toilet, a paper announced, "Mr. Maguire will wash himself before he assumes the office of town clerk." This made Maguire furious, and he demanded a retraction, which appeared thus: "Mr. Maguire requests us to deny that he will wash himself before he assumes the office of town clerk." Oddly enough, this only enraged Maguire the more.—San Francisco News-Letter.

He Set the Pace.
"You seem bound and determined to live right up to my salary."
"I'm merely trying to live up to the diamond and things you gave me when we were engaged, dear."—Houston Post.

His Happiness.
He— "I shall be just miserable when I have to go away and leave you."
"Oh, Jack, if I were sure of that I'd feel so happy!"—Life.

Power of Radium.
In an address before the British Scientific association Professor Darwin said radium was a substance which was perhaps millions of times more powerful than dynamite. Thus it was estimated that an ounce of radium would contain enough power to raise 10,000 tons a mile above the earth's surface. Another way of stating the same estimate was that the energy needed to tow a ship of 12,000 tons a distance of 6,000 sea miles at fifteen knots was contained in twenty-two ounces of radium. Now, we know that the entire world's radio active materials, and it was safe to assume that it forms in some degree a sample of the materials of the solar system; hence it was almost certain that the sun is radio active also.

Docking Horses.
President Roosevelt has rendered a good service in taking a pronounced stand against docking horses. In Washington the custom is labored, and there the horse is quite exempt from such barbarity. It is a cockney idea copied from the aristocratic snobs of England. It not only deprives the horse of the use of his natural grace, but of his weapon of defense against the flies and other insects, which are left free to torture him.
In Kentucky, to the credit of her people be it said, outside of a limited set, the practice has no favor, and at the agricultural fairs, where the highest grades of horses of all kinds are shown, such mutilation is rarely seen.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

People glorify all sorts of bravery except the bravery they might show on behalf of their nearest neighbors.—George Elliot.

FRIDAY, NOV. 17, 1905.

The Old Mission Church is now covered with a new roof and protected from the rains that had in the past few years nearly destroyed the adobe walls.

Thanks to the generosity of those who contributed, $130.00 has been raised to pay for this permanent improvement looking towards restoring the old landmark, the emblem of our early christian civilization.

More money is needed however to restore the monastery adjoining the church. The roof of this structure is partially covered with tiles and presents a very dilapidated appearance.

It is hoped that all those who desire to help in the restoration will not delay with their donations because the longer these buildings are let go the harder will the work of restoration become and the more expensive it will be.

It has been said that the Interstate Commerce Commission will be vested with power to decide what shall be a reasonable rate, subject to review only after a given rate has been challenged. There are conflicting interests in trade and in manufacturing as in transportation. Mistaken notions of rates might, at any time, if the Interstate Commerce Commission has the power that is sought for it, under complaints which could not be heard for a long time, by the uncertainty that would be caused in the interval between the filing of the complaint and the final hearing, seriously embarrass the business of large sections. There is no limit to complaints that can be filed, but there is a limit to the capacity of the Interstate Commerce Commission to promptly hear the evidence in support of them all.

There is every reason to suppose that the complaints brought before the Commission would equal in number, annually, at least, the causes that the Supreme Court of the United States is called upon to consider, and the calendar would soon be hopelessly clogged. In the meantime business must languish. New enterprises would not be undertaken. Uncertainty would take the place of the present certainty. These facts will be carefully considered by all men who are engaged in business and they will have due weight.

BIG SUCCESS

The Woman's Improvement Club of Glen Ellen are proud of the outcome of their efforts in giving the Masquerade Ball in Glen Ellen last Friday night.

Over 50 couples appeared in mask and a jolly good time was every body's verdict of the party. Miss Mabel Phillips won the first prize in the character of "Girl Ragpicker," Mrs. C. C. Weiss as Topsy, Mrs. Jessie Trowbridge as a Red Cross nurse and A. Broghardt as a clown, sustained their parts to the great amusement of those present.

A very satisfactory sum was realized. It will be devoted to improvements in the town.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes are Curable.

A pamphlet has come into our hands from San Francisco under the above heading that proves almost indisputably that the long sought cure for Bright's Disease and Diabetes has been found. It deals so frankly and exhaustively with the question that we have laid it aside to loan to those afflicted. People who have relatives with either of these heretofore fatal diseases ought certainly to see it.

SUPERIOR COURT NOTES

In the Superior Court on Monday the following matters were called on the calendars in both Departments:

In Department I, Judge Seawell presiding, the will of the late Amasa Morse was admitted to probate and Charles W. Wadsworth and Mrs. Carrie Bowles were named executors without bonds.

John Merritt was appointed administrator on the estate of Mary Merritt in a bond of $1,450.

The final accounts were settled and distribution ordered of the estates of Edward T. Devens, Joseph Peter Smith, Anna B. Vail and Mary A. Watt.

The final account of the estate of L. D. Maddux was settled and allowed.

The second annual account of the estate of Flavien Berton was settled and allowed and an attorney's fee of $500 was allowed. A sale of property of the Jean Couralet estate was confirmed to Jean Batiste Courlet.

A family allowance of $60 per month was allowed in the estate of Jacob Joost.

Division of the property was continued to Nov. 20.

A sale of real property of the estate of Barbara Meili was granted. These probate matters were continued; Estate of Leonard Schwan to Dec. 18; estates of Charles A. Reimers and Jennie Blance Carson to Nov. 20.

The time for answering in the suit of the Levin Tanning Company against Max Reutersham was continued to Nov. 20.

In Department II, Judge Burnett presiding, these matters were continued to Nov. 20: People vs. Levin Tanning Company, People vs. F. J. Miller, People vs. J. J. Alves, Neilson vs. Riebel, Batchelor vs. Cummings, to November 20.

In the suit of Mary Gasper vs. George Fritz, Harriet Fritz and John Larson, the defaults of the defendants were entered.

An order for a special venire of thirty-five jurors, returnable on November 14, was made.

HEAD CONSUL COMING

Head Consul, I. I. Bok, Woodmen of the World, will attend the monster rally and initiation in Santa Rosa on Saturday evening Dec. 2.

Bear Flag Camp of Sonoma with 15 new candidates will attend in a body. A grand street parade and banquet will be features of the big event.

WANTED-RAIN

Humboldt County is deploring the long dry spell. The slowness of the rain in reaching that part is causing considerable anxiety among farmers and stockmen. Sonoma Co. would welcome a good down pour of rain but is not suffering for the want of moisture.

MRS. BLACKBURN DEAD

Mrs. Jimena Blackburn, mother of Corner Blackburn, passed away at her home in Petaluma last Saturday morning. Deceased was a pioneer of Petaluma and widely known. All her children were with her when the end came. They are: Chas. Blackburn, Mrs. Mary Rodd, A. H. Blackburn, Mrs. Lilian Parsons, Miss Emma Blackburn and Frank Blackburn.

DIVORCE COURT

After 40 years of married life, Mrs. Louisa Moller has sued her husband, Wm. R. Moller, pioneer contractor of Petaluma, for divorce.

Mrs. Clara Vinyard has brought suit in the Superior Court for the annulment of the marriage contract alleging desertion on the part of her husband Leonidas Vinyard.

Mrs. Elizabeth Guber has sued her husband W. R. Guber for a separation of the marriage tie. The defendant has resided in Missouri for the past ten years and his wife has lived in the land of sunshine and flowers. Plaintiff avers that a decade is sufficient time in which hubby could return if he so desired.

Golden Gate Orphanage.

We are in receipt of a neat little booklet entitled, "With the Waifs and Strays" telling of the good work done by the Salvation Army in the orphanage at Lytton, Sonoma Co.

The Army is doing a noble service for the unfortunate little waifs and orphans of the state and are deserving all the assistance it is within our power to give them. About ninety little ones are being properly cared for at the Home at present.

Voluntary contributions thankfully received and should be sent to Col. Geo. French, 1271 Mission St. San Francisco, Cal. and made payable to "The Salvation Army."

MAY BE A REPUBLIC

The metropolitan paper each day give accounts of the riots and bloodshed in the empire of Russia. The Czar and the nobles (so called) are trembling for the power and their lives.

No wonder that the populace, ground down by ages of oppression and cruel injustice now that a chance for freedom has come, are going to extremes. The prediction is freely made now, that Russia will now become a republic.

Russia is an enormous country, possessed of untold wealth in undeveloped resources. Should a just and modern form of government be established, she would soon become one of the mightiest nations in history.

TWO NEW STORES

Carpenters and painters have completed the renovation of the Barbain building on 1st. St. East, making two fine stores on the ground floor. EL VERANO

Ralph Ent is up in arms. He says he will not officiate at any more burial of dead horses. In one month he was asked to haul three dead horses away. But when the fourth horse died, it was, "Mr. Ent please come over and bury this one. He said something in a sotto voice which was enough.

Thomas Mullen is rushed to death in the express business. He has just purchased a new wagon and intends buying another horse. We wish Tom every success.

Gates & Petersen, the new lumber men are rushed with orders and they say it is hard to keep customers. They sell only car load lots.

Mrs. Eliza Pilastro has bought out Mr. Ashcroft, who has gone to Agua Caliente to raise turkeys.

D. W. Corbin has the contract to build Mrs. Pilastro's new barn. Mr. Bean, the genial chicken raiser of this place, has just received some fine Buff Orpingtons.

Thomas Baines is again busy. He is erecting a large barn in the rear of his residence.

One of the finest chicken ranches birds and Indian Reds are on his place, he has erected 4 brooder houses and six new chicken houses. Some fine specimens of ornamental trees are just being planted.

"THE NOBLEST WORK"

"An honest man's the noblest work of God." is an old saying that has stood as gospel for many ages. But to our way of thinking, a true wife and mother who loves her husband and her children whom she raises to useful and honorable manhood and womanhood is a far nobler specimen of divine wisdom. Such women should be the most honored of their sex as they perform the highest and best services to humanity.

A manish woman is neither useful nor ornamental and adds nothing to the welfare or happiness of the human race. A true good wife and mother who raises her children to become noble characters like herself, is the noblest work of God.

THE BEST WAY OUT OF A BAD ROOF

When a roof gets bad it gets so bad that the more patching you do on it the more you will have to do. It is an endless expense and annoyance and the best way out of it is to cover it up entirely with Elastite or Mastic, the roofing that does not wear out or ever need painting or repairing, and gives you permanent protection from leaks. It is made of mineral rubber, is therefore fireproof, and has the endurance that places it above comparison with anything else in the line of roofing, though costing no more. Ask your local agent for samples, price list and full information, or write to Sam Meyer, Healdsburg, distributor for Sonoma, Lake and Mendocino counties. A. W. Adler, agent, Sonoma.

A. W. AGNEW

The sweetness of the first embrace with the woman of his choice will always linger in a man's mind. It is a pity that the sweet memory should ever be poisoned by the taint of ill-health and consequent unhappiness. It is sad that the flower of a happy remembrance should be obscured and killed by the noxious weeds of sickness and sorrow. Too frequently this is the case. A woman cannot be a happy, helpful amiable wife who suffers from weakness and disease at the very springs of her nature. She may grow up to take its place, but love itself seldom survives where this is the case. If a woman will, she may always hold her place in a man's mind and heart. If she will take the right care of herself in a womanly way she will never lose her rightful inheritance, a husband's love.

The best of all known medicines for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the important and delicate organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible and makes them strong and well. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones up and builds up tired nerves. It prepares for almost painless motherhood and insures healthy children. Thousands of women who were sickly, nervous, fretful invalids are now happy, cheerful and helpful wives as a result of its use. All good medicine dealers keep it, and there is nothing "just as good." Any dealer who tries to persuade you that there is is thinking more of his profit than of your welfare and health.

"I have been taking your medicine for the last three weeks and can say I am gaining strength," writes Mrs. Joseph Kinney, of 605 East Madison Street, Mount Pleasant, Iowa. "I have been having very poor health all winter. I doctored with our family doctor but was relieved only while taking the medicine. I knew it was good for any one suffering with female trouble. Have taken nothing but your medicine. I have taken it for a month and I feel much better. I had cold and numb spells all my life and almost stop breathing. Have had one child since first taking your medicine. If I continue with your treatment an positive I will be cured."

Know Thyself. Your most important knowledge is knowledge of yourself. You should read a complete "Doctor's" book, called Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advisor. Has reached its sixty-fifth edition or 2,100,000 copies. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps, for this 1008-page book in paper covers, or 31 cents for a copy in cloth binding. Address Dr. J. C. Pierce, Little Rock, Ark.

DEATH OF MRS. ANDRIEUX

At the noon hour on Wednesday Mrs. Louisa E. Andrieux, a pioneer resident of this valley passed to her eternal reward, at her home on 3rd St. West.

A few weeks ago, deceased became annoyed by a small pimple on her finger. This grew worse until blood poisoning set in and the finger was amputated, it being deemed advisable in order, if possible to prevent the spreading of the disease. It was to no avail however, the inevitable could not be stayed. Her spirit taking its flight at the hour above mentioned.

Mrs. Andrieux was born in San Francisco 48 years ago, and has resided in the valley many years.

Some thirteen years ago her husband died leaving her to take care of the growing family. By honesty, frugality and hard work the patient mother reared her children to be industrious and self-reliant. Most of the family were at the bedside of the stricken mother when the end came.

The sympathy of a host of friends goes out to the stricken family in the loss of their loved one.

C. Aguilon of this city is an uncle of deceased.

The funeral which took place this morning from St. Francis Church, was largely attended. Rev. Father Leahy officiated.

The remains were laid to rest in Mountain Cemetery.

THANKSGIVING RACES

The Sonoma Driving Club will give a race meet in Sonoma on Thursday afternoon Nov. 30, 1905. The track on 1st St. West is in fine condition and some good sport is promised.

Four good races are on the program and some surprises in the matter of speed are freely predicted. The prophets are practically unanimous on the prediction that there will be no general rain this year. Of course if the weather is very stormy at that time the races will be declared off.

The usual gate admission will be charged. "If you go you will be thankful that you went."

SACRED CONCERT

The committee appointed by Sonoma Parlor N. S. G. W., have in contemplation the plan of giving a sacred concert in the Old Mission building some time next month. The choir of St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco and some other vocalists of national reputation will probably donate their services.

The Concert, when present plans are carried out, will be of the highest order and furnish rare musical treat to the people of the valley.

The entire receipts will be devoted to the work of restoring the old mission and monastery in Sonoma.

It Pays

Order your fall suit now of H. F. Lord, the tailor. Better goods, better work, less money than you can get any where else in the state.

MOORE VS. LOGAN

The boxing contest between Moore of Santa Rosa and Logan of Healdsburg was fought in Santa Rosa Wednesday night under the auspices of the Sonoma Valley Athletic Club.

Moore defeated his opponent in the 17th round. The club divided the purse with the fighters. Moore the winner getting about $170 as his share on the basis of seventy to thirty per cent. Logan received about $75.

THINK OF IT

Why send away for your lumber or planing mill work, when you can get it at Adler's, Spain St. just as you want it, for less money.

Don't Shiver.

Buy a nice warm blanket for your horse and a robe for yourself. Geo. Breitenbach has just received a large stock of the finest robes and blankets.

The next is JELLY GLASSES and FRUIT CANS, at Palestine and McGimsey.

Goods were sold this week to C. J. Smith of South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and four children came from South Dakota and are already in possession of their new home in the land of sunshine fruit and flowers, the land where the blizzard is unknown and the cyclone cometh not.

Mr. Smith is a gentleman of means and will make many improvements in his purchase.

J. D. Kiter, of Prospect, Oregon, has purchased that fine 7-acre field across the creek from the Perkins' home west of town. The new owner has rented the place for one year after which time he expects to build a house thereon and make it his permanent home.

Both purchases were made through the agency of D. H. Twinn.

President Roosevelt makes $50,000 in one year. In the same length of time Richard McCurdy and his son make $271,766, about five and one-half times the salary of the President of this great nation. From a financial point of view, it is better to be President of an old-line life insurance company than to be president of the United States.

Mine Host Ciucci of the Toscano Hotel, who is famous for his epicurean feasts is making elaborate preparations for a grand turkey dinner on Nov. 30, Thanksgiving.

Have you seen the glassware at Palestine & McGimsey's.
